

Denver, CO March 11, 2020 (8:16pm) - Denver March Powwow, Inc.

After consideration of all factors involved with the Corona "Covid19" virus we have decided to postpone the 46th Annual Denver March Powwow. This is not an easy decision but with the announcement from the World Health Organization (WHO) deeming Covid19 a pandemic and our concern for the health and safety of all of our participants, vendors and attendees, including a large number of our elders, we feel it is best to postpone and look for other dates later in the year. We will work with the venue to secure new dates and make an announcement with the details once they are confirmed. Please check our website for updates or contact our office at 303-934-8045 - but please give us a few days to re-group.

Reminders:

1. Cancel your hotel Reservations immediately. The hotel requires cancellations be made 72 hours in advance of arrival date to not be charged. We cannot do it for you because of privacy regulations.
2. Keep your advance sale tickets and parking passes. They can be used at the next DMPW.
